DISHONEST JANITOR

The Perpetrator of Court House Thefts Caught.

ARRESTED IN THE ACT.

Isaac Neville, the Colored Assistant Janitor, Comes to Grief, After a Long Period of Systematic Stealing—He Pleads not Guilty.

CANTON, Oct. 7.—Isaac Neville, colored, assistant janitor of the Stark county court house, was arrested and lodged in the county jail at 6 o'clock Friday evening, charged with grand larceny. With his arrest, one of the court house mysteries has been solved. For some time since county officials have been puzzled by the disappearance of small sums of money in an unaccountable manner. The thefts began in the treasurer's office more than a year ago, when small amounts disappeared from the cash box, principally during the noon hour. This continued until last January, when Treasurer Smith, guessing at the truth, had the lock on the office changed. With this alteration the thefts ceased there, but at the same time the thief seemed to turn his attention to other offices.

Affairs continued in this condition, the sums taken gradually growing larger and larger. Twelve dollars were taken from the probate office, Wednesday evening, and $20 disappeared from the sheriff's office one night last week, while small sums were being pilfered regularly from the auditor's, clerk's and recorder's offices. Two weeks ago Deputy Clerk of Courts Bliss missed the key to the money drawer of the clerk's safe, which he carried with others in a coat pocket. His first supposition was that he had lost it, but on discovering that the drawer had been unlocked and money appropriated during his absence one noon, he suspected the truth, directed his suspicions against Neville and immediately began plans for entrapping him. His effort seemed to be in vain. Last evening after office hours, however, Clerk Castleman, Court Bailiff Holman, Janitor Alexander and Deputy Sheriff Crubaugh hid themselves in a small staircase, which Mr. Bliss had occupied for many nights before, leading from the clerk's office to the third floor. From their position they saw Neville unlock the drawer, with the key which he had undoubtedly stolen from Mr. Bliss's pockets, and transfer $105 from it into his own pockets. They then confronted him, Deputy Crubaugh making the arrest. At first inclined to deny it, Neville afterwards made a full confession, weeping like a child. No one is able to estimate the amount of his pilferings, but those from the treasurer's office are supposed to amount to the most. Neville was one of the most respectable of Canton's colored citizens, and the discovery has caused much excitement. He was arraigned before Mayor Robertson this morning, pleaded not guilty, and was bound over in the sum of $500 for hearing Monday afternoon. C. C. Upham is his attorney.

Lieutenant Philip Yost, of the Forty-seventh, United States infantry, has returned from Cleveland, and will open a recruiting office in this city. Of the young men who went with the lieutenant to Cleveland, expecting to enlist, William Stone, Frank Ungaschick and Martin Shorb have returned, having failed to pass the examination for enlistment. Their comrades, Charles Houser, James Corey, John Vernier, Charles Simpson, Melvin B. Lape and Edward Renner, all successfully passed through the requirements and were accepted. They will go to Camp Meade and expect to be in the Forty-Seventh regiment. All of these young men are well known in the city and saw service in Cuba, as members of the Eighth regiment, O. V. I.

Fiscal account has been filed in the guardianship of Henry and Melissa Culler, of Tuscarawas township.

A marriage license has been granted to Emmet Hile and Mrs. Mary M. Ogden, of Massillon.

Recruiting Office Opened.

A recruiting office for the Forty-seventh regiment infantry, United States volunteers, has been established on the fourth floor of the Eagle block, public square, in Canton. First Lieutenant Philip Yost, formerly of Company I, Eighth Ohio, is in charge of the office. All applicants must be at least five feet four inches in height, between eighteen and thirty-five years of age, of good character and habits, able-bodied, free from disease and must be able to speak the English language. This regiment is being formed for service in the Philippines. All recruits will be sent to the regimental rendezvous at Camp Meade, Pennsylvania.

THE FIRST WARE.

Shipment Made From Table Works Today.

FORCE NOW THIRTY-THREE

Manager Arnold Says They Have a Sufficient Number of Orders on Hand to Provide Steady Work Till Christmas—Other Industrial News.

(From Thursday's Daily.)

The first ware was shipped from the works of the Ohio Table company this afternoon. Manager Arnold stated that the company now has 122 orders on hand, sufficient to keep the plant in steady operation from now until Christmas. The number of men employed, now about thirty-three, will be increased as soon as possible. Frank Koontz, of 20 Wissmar avenue, has been engaged as bookkeeper. A majority of the mechanics employed by the company are from other towns. Those who have not yet removed their families to this city are now preparing to do so.

Following is a list of the workmen who have come from other cities: Milton Race, John Billig and A. A. Forest, of Canton; Peter Vogt and Paul Vogt, of Grand Rapids, Mich.; Walter Miller and G. Leininger, of Adrian, Mich.; W. A. Kincaid and John Baker, of West Farmington; John Dewesse, of Reedus; S. U. Johnson, of Fred Fisher and E. Zimmerman, of Salem; M. E. Mahew, of Oakfield; W. F. Walder, of Cleveland, and F. W. Friend, of Norwalk.

The Massillon men employed, not mentioned in the above, are: Grant Roof, F. Tompkins, H. Wendling, G. Wagner, John Obrecht, T. Mellon, John Winkelman, F. Stoner, H. Brannan, O. Guernsey, Beecher Hardgrove, John Hullinger, Henry Hamel, Alonzo Crofut and B. Lantzer.

BROKE GROUND TODAY.

The grading for the Pennsylvania switch to the site for the proposed works of the Massillon Iron and Steel Company was commenced this morning. Swanson Brothers, of this city, have the contract, and are now advertising for laborers and teams. This firm makes a specialty of this kind of work, having in the past executed many large contracts for the C. & P. and other railway companies. All matters pertaining to the proposed street to the site have not been settled, but all parties concerned are satisfied that the thoroughfare will be opened at the most advantageous point without unnecessary delay.

ROAD ROLLER FOR CUBA. The second road roller purchased from Russell & Company by the government for Havana, Cuba, within a few months, is being prepared for shipment today.

THE STATE HOSPITAL.

The Trustees Anxious to Open a New Cottage at Once.

A Columbus dispatch of the 4th inst. says: "The state emergency board has been called to meet on the 11th inst. to consider an application of the board of trustees of the Massillon state hospital for the insane. The trustees are anxious to open a new cottage, but cannot do so until it has been furnished. After the meeting of the emergency board the trustees will probably hold a session and elect the successor of Superintendent Richardson, who has been appointed superintendent of the government insane asylum in Washington city. Up to this time the only name mentioned in connection with the vacant superintendency is that of Dr. Clark, who has been one of the leading assistants since the institution opened. He was also connected with the Columbus asylum for insane and has a wide reputation as an expert in the treatment of insane. Dr. Clark was also assistant superintendent of the Gallipolis epileptic hospital and formulated all the prescriptions now in use at that institution. He has hosts of friends all over the state who will urge his appointment to the position made vacant by the retirement of Dr. Richardson."

THE THIRD TRIAL.

The Columbia and Shamrock Favored with a Good Breeze.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—[By Associated Press]—A twelve or fifteen knot breeze is blowing down the Jersey coast, and it is probable that the course for today's race between the Columbia and Shamrock will be the same as on Tuesday last. The atmosphere is clear, giving a fine view at a great distance.

The Columbia crossed the line at 11:20, about ten seconds ahead of the Shamrock. At the end of the first mile the Columbia was still ahead. The course is south of southeast.

At 1:37 both boats turned the outer mark, sailing abreast, and started for home. It is feared the race will not be finished within the time limit, as the breeze has dropped to about three knots.

2:30—Both boats are standing out to sea, with the hope of getting a better breeze. The Shamrock is leading, but the Columbia appears to be getting the most of the wind and is overhauling her.

CARY BOUND OVER.

Court Room Crowded with Spectators During the Hearing.

Mortimer C. Cary, who was arrested at Navarre by Policemen Getz and Wittman several days ago, was bound over to court by Mayor Wise, Saturday afternoon. In default of $500 bail, Cary will be taken to the Canton jail. The hearing was in progress several hours. The court room was crowded with spectators. The state was represented by Attorney E. G. Willison. Attorney R. A. Pinn conducted the defense.

LEAVE OCTOBER 16.

Dr. Richardson Takes the Oath of Office.

TWO BONDS FOR $55,000.

The Moment They are Approved, Dr. Richardson will be Superintendent of the Washington Institution—Successor to be Elected October 9.

Dr. A. B. Richardson, recently appointed superintendent of the government insane hospital at Washington, this morning took the oath of office and sent to the secretary of the interior his corporation bonds, one for $5,000 and the other for $50,000. Upon the approval of these bonds, Dr. Richardson will be legally the superintendent of the Washington institution. The oath of office, which was administered by E. G. Willison, attorney and notary public, of this city, is that the maker will support the constitution of the United States, and will honestly, faithfully and impartially perform the duties of his office.

Dr. Richardson on Wednesday returned from Washington, to which place he had gone to make arrangements for the removal of his family to that city. Accompanied by Mrs. Richardson and Miss Richardson, he will leave on October 16 for Washington, which thereafter will be their permanent place of residence. Dr. Richardson found the Washington institution lacking the modern features so conspicuous at the Massillon asylum, and he also found that his duties will be far more onerous and will entail a greater responsibility than his present position.

The appointment of a successor to Dr. Richardson will probably be made on Oct. 9, when the board of trustees of the Massillon state hospital will meet the state emergency board at Columbus. The joint meeting will have to do with certain appropriations for the Massillon institutions. At the meeting of the trustees thereafter, Dr. Richardson will request that his successor be named, as he feels it important that the new superintendent should be at the institution a few days before it will be necessary for him to go to Washington. Dr. Richardson has not yet made formal resignation of the Massillon superintendency to the trustees.

In the selection of a successor to Dr. Richardson, a question will arise which must be decided by the attorney general. Dr. Howard, of Cuyahoga Falls, one of the trustees of the Massillon institution, will in all probability be a candidate. Under one law, Dr. Howard, being a trustee, is said to be ineligible, but the claim is made that this law does not apply to the Massillon institution, and that therefore Dr. Howard is eligible. The attorney general's interpretation of the law will settle the matter.

A NEW DEPOT.

The W. & L. E. Will Build One at Cleveland.

The order has gone forth to the occupants of the present building which contains the Wheeling & Lake Erie passenger depot to vacate within a very short time. The intention behind this request is to tear down the old building preparatory to building on that site a new structure that will be worthy of the pretensions of the newly consolidated property. While the building will be an excellent one and thoroughly commodious, it will not be so extensive as was originally proposed. It is said that the building will be about three stories above the pavement level, the depot proper being on the ground floor and below the pavement, as it is at present.

The plans are to give more space on the ground floor for the depot proper, and it will be much more conveniently arranged than the present one is. There will also, it is said, be an elevator for the use of passengers, and also to move the baggage up and down. It is thought that as the notice is given this early the old building will be vacant before the first of November, and the work of building the new one will be begun. The Wheeling, it is understood, tried to make an arrangement with the Valley for use of its tracks and depot while the new one is being built, but was refused the privilege, and must hunt elsewhere.—Cleveland Leader.

A NEW OIL FIELD.

Rich New Territory Opened in West Virginia.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 7.—[By Associated Press]—A great oil strike has been made on the Spring-Camden farm, in Lewis county, and oil men are rushing to the place in great numbers. It is an entirely new territory.

THE SILENT CITY.

Growsome Tales from Where Quiet Reigns.

SEXTON MERRELL ALERT.

Dusky Forms in the Cemetery at Midnight Bring up Memories of Past Battles with the Body-Snatchers, and He Sallies Forth to do His Duty as of Yore.

Massillon young people seem to have fallen into a cheerful way of organizing themselves into parties and paying midnight visits to the cemetery. Sexton D. M. Merrell was awakened late the other night by the barking of his dog. He looked out of a window, and counted nine dusky forms moving among the white tombstones. He did not know exactly what to make of it, but he felt that the people had no business there. His rifle is always loaded. Taking it from its hanging place, he sallied forth. He discovered who the visitors were, and then returned to the house in the frame of mind of the man who has been sold again. The dusky forms had told that they had had a taffy-pulling, and that this cemetery feature had been sprung as a banter. They wanted to know if he had ever seen any hobgoblins, and at what hour the gay set from the spirit land began to arrive. They tried the sexton's putrescence sorely. Time after time since then Sexton Merrell has suffered a repetition of the annoyance. There is no way in which these midnight visits can be prevented, for there is no lock on the cemetery gates, and inasmuch as certain parts of the grounds are not fenced, it would do but little good if there were.

"There ought to be a high, strong fence all around the cemetery," said Sexton Merrell, the other day. "They have them in other places, and after a certain hour nobody is allowed in the grounds. The gates are locked, and the fence is so high and strong that nobody can get in. Of course it doesn't matter so much nowadays whether people visit the graveyard or not at night, for they don't generally come to carry away any of the citizens of the silent city, for the doctors and scientists can get all the bodies they need without stealing them. But there was a time when things were different. I remember when we used to stay up on guard all night for seven nights to be sure that the graves were not molested. There has only been one successful case of body-snatching in my time, though we have frustrated numerous attempts. It's been about twenty-five years since a coal miner fell down a shaft and had his back broken. The body was buried in this cemetery on Saturday. Sunday morning a brother of the deceased came to the house and said that he had dreamed that the body of his brother had been removed from the grave. We went to investigate, and the moment I laid eyes on the grave I knew that this dream was true. The grave had been tampered with, and when we took out the dirt we found that the body was gone. Some doctor who felt that he needed this corpse in the pursuit of scientific knowledge doubtless had made a midnight visit and got away with it."

"About that time, too, a body was stolen from the old St. Joseph's cemetery, which was located in Richville avenue. An aeronaut, I don't recall his name, was killed here. The body was buried in that cemetery. Some months afterwards relatives of the deceased in Europe sent word that they wanted the body exhumed and sent to that country. The grave was opened, but the body was not there. These instances made us very careful, and it was a rule to guard newly made graves. It seemed that the body-snatchers placed a greater value on the bodies of suicides or men who came to violent death. They were always after that kind. A young man in the finest of broadcloth came to Massillon about twenty-five years ago and killed himself in a saloon. He had big rolls of banknotes about him, but nobody knew who he was nor whence he came. There was nothing on his person to indicate his identity. He was buried here, and I remember we had quite a brush with some men who came after the body the first night."

"There are still some people who talk about the possibility of a burial alive, but we don't hear so much of it. In my twenty-eight years as a sexton I have seen to the removal and the changing of the location of many graves, and there is only one case to which there was any indication of the person being buried alive. This was a woman whose remains were brought here from the old Kendal cemetery. Years and years ago there was cholera hereabouts, and this woman was one of those taken down with it. They thought she was dead when they buried her, but in times like that people are none too particular, and I think she was alive. When the body was disinterred for removal, the elbows were bent and the hands had evidently been clutching the hair. The body apparently had been lying sideways, another fact in support of the supposition that she was not dead when placed in the casket."

Sexton Merrell and four assistants have done much in the way of improvements about the cemetery, and it is now in better condition, so Superintendent

Jarvis says, than it has been at any time in the past. This city of the dead is now fifty-one years old, and it now has a population of nearly five thousand. The first gravemark erected bore the name of Morrison. The greatest number of burials made in the cemetery in one year is 110. This was in 1894. Facts that are not generally known are that, in addition to the G. A. R., the Masonic and Odd Fellow fraternities have lots in the cemetery. The Methodist and St. Timothy's churches also have lots. There are no graves in the section of the Methodist church. The body of the late Rev. Mr. Harcourt was interred here, but years later was removed to a private lot. St. Timothy's lot is the last resting-place of the late Rev. Mr. Probascio, who died a victim of smallpox. Other Episcopalian ministers and members of their families are also buried here.

The cemetery has two potter's fields. The old one is in the southern part of the grounds, and contains about five hundred graves, few of which are marked. All of these of the North End potter's field are marked and numbered, and names corresponding to the numbers are kept on record by Sexton Merrell.

E. WISSMAR DEAD.

End Comes Rather Suddenly Friday Evening.

FUNERAL SUNDAY AT 2:30.

Mr. Wissmar, Respected by all who Knew Him, was a Resident of Massillon for a Half-Century—A Widow and Survived by Two Children.

Ernest Wissmar, of 157 West Tremont street, the father of Policeman Ernest Wissmar, with whom he lived, on Friday appeared stronger and better than he had in many months, but when he lay down to rest in the evening it was to rise no more. For a year and a half Mr. Wissmar had been very feeble. In the entire time not having been able to walk down town. Mrs. Ernest Wissmar, wife of the deceased's son, assisted Mr. Wissmar to his room at about 5:30 Friday evening. The moment he lay down he became unconscious, and he never rallied. Death occurred at twenty minutes of six o'clock. Heart failure was the cause.

Mr. Wissmar was born in Loewack, in the grand duchy of Baden, in 1820. He came to America when five years old with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip J. Wissmar. They located first in Canal Fulton. Later they removed to Massillon. At one time they also resided in Navarre. When a lad of fifteen Mr. Wissmar, to whose restless spirit the Stark county life was slow and uninteresting, ran away from home. He secured employment in a wholesale house in New Orleans, and it was here that he was found by his father and brought home. He then entered the employ of Russell & Seaton as bookkeeper.

A few years later he again left Massillon, this time going to sea. For seven years he was a sailor. He visited many distant lands on one merchant vessel or another, and in after years, even to the day of his death, he loved to talk of the things he had seen and compare those countries with his own. He had had many exciting adventures and unusual experiences, and he could relate them in a most interesting manner. In New York, in 1845, Mr. Wissmar was married to Miss Isabella Bryson. He then determined to quit the sea, and obtained employment as a bookkeeper in a New York place of business. At the outbreak of the Mexican war, however, but a few months later, he entered the navy, serving first on the gunboat Ewing and later on the Spitfire. Mr. Wissmar, it is thought, was at the time of his death the only Massillon survivor of the Mexican war. He was not a veteran of the civil war.

In 1852, Mr. Wissmar, with his family removed to Massillon, and not long afterwards he entered the real estate office of the late Kent Jarvis, in whose employ he remained continuously for nearly twenty-five years, or until the death of Mr. Jarvis. This was late in the seventies. Since that time Mr. Wissmar had led a retired life, enjoying the fruits of many years of industry. At different times, before entering the employ of Mr. Jarvis, Mr. Wissmar held the position of bookkeeper in the furniture store of Lockwood & Company and in the Union National Bank.

Mr. Wissmar was a widower. His wife died in 1887. He was the father of four children, two of whom, Joseph and Ernest, survive him. Joseph Wissmar is now living in Norwalk. Funeral services will be conducted at the West Tremont street residence at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon by Massillon Commandery, Knights Templars, with which organization Mr. Wissmar was connected. The Rev. John I. Wilson, of the First M. E. church will preach the funeral sermon.

President Kruger, of the South African Republic believes that "the Lord will decide" regarding the outcome of the Boer's dispute with Great Britain, but he also believes that heaven's all-wise decision will more likely be in his favor if there is no let up in his extensive preparations for war.

The record of the auditor of Franklin county shows that Judge George K. Nash, Republican candidate for governor of Ohio, pays an assessment of $2,925 worth of personal property. This total compares well with John R. McLean's statement of personal property amounting to $1,647. But then it must be remembered that Mr. McLean is "the poor man's candidate." His fortune is estimated at only $15,000,000.

Aside from the fact that the Democracy of Ohio has been straying after false political gods and has thus lost all hope of support from the voters who have hitherto been its enthusiastic followers, the clean, honest fight which is being made for election by the Republican state and county candidates, in contrast to the unscrupulous methods which are employed by their opponents, could not fail to win votes from every Democrat who believes in sending the best men to every branch of the state and county government.

The late Hon. John P. Jones is hastening to get under cover. According to the Ohio State Journal, he has announced a determination to support Judge Nash, and has also expressed a desire to endorse the national administration. Two years ago this fall Mr. Jones went back on his pledge to support Senator Hanna because his personal interests made it necessary for him to stand in with Governor Bushnell. Having gathered in all the fruits of his traitorous conduct at that time, the North Lawrence statesman is now prepared to square himself with his erstwhile constituents and get on the warm side of the next governor of Ohio. Mr. Jones's protestations of loyalty to Judge Nash and devotion to the national administration will be taken for just what they are worth and no more.

The newspapers which are continually hinting that General Otis has shown incompetency in his management of the Philippine campaign are manifestly unable to cite a single instance where the American commander has failed to take advantage of an opportunity offered for gaining valuable positions, or a single important battle in which the Philippines have not been defeated. The impression which has been most prevalent is that General Otis is evincing splendid capabilities in an undertaking whose difficulties can only be fully understood by those who have been on the ground and are entirely familiar with present conditions in the Philippines. Admiral Dewey may be considered a more competent judge of such conditions than the loud-mouthed critics who are following the plan of General Otis's campaign in the seclusion of their own firesides. Admiral Dewey's opinion has been emphatically expressed, confirming and strengthening the faith of the American public in General Otis.

As was to have been expected, the anti-expansion and Mugwump Democrats, disappointed in their attempt to set Admiral Dewey at loggerheads with the administration, have fixed up a plausible sounding explanation of the reasons for the President's prompt action on Dewey's suggestions for the waging of the Philippine campaign. According to this explanation the President and his councilors expect to turn over the management of the Philippine question to Admiral Dewey and ultimately send him on as governor general of the islands, in order to eliminate him as a candidate for the presidency in 1900. This assumption of a jealous anxiety on the part of McKinley and his friends concerning Dewey's possible presidential ambitions is as ridiculous as it is unscrupulous. It is known that Dewey is a Republican, that he will not allow his name to be used as a presidential possibility, and that he sincerely desires the nomination and re-election of Mr. McKinley; but suppose his private disinclination and personal preferences were overcome by public sentiment, what should there be in his management of the Philippine problem to constrain him to refuse the nomination.

THE COMMON-PLEAS JUDGE-SHIP.

The signs of the times, indicated by the candidacy of Messrs. Ralph H. Ambler and Clinton C. Bow, of Canton, for the next vacant common-pleas judgeship, point to the coming of a race of younger men to the bench than we of Stark county have been accustomed to seeing. The unanimity with which the matter has narrowed down to these two accomplished gentlemen, suggests a state of public satisfaction very justly founded. Mr. Ambler, though possessing a wide acquaintance, has never been before the public as an aspirant for any honor. Mr. Bow needs no words of introduction, having already served the county with satisfaction to his constituents and credit to himself. Mr. Ambler has created for himself a reputation among lawyers and others as a clear and cool-headed student, whose perceptions lead straight to the center of knotty problems, and whose intelligence and integrity cannot be shaken by any appeal not based upon principle. It should afford widespread satisfaction to the public to realize that the bench of this county, occupied in the past by men of learning and right-thinking, will remain in safe hands. The political question involved is of minor importance. As the district is constituted, it is virtually settled that a Republican will succeed to the office, and the only practical point to be considered is whether or not the place shall be occupied by a Stark county man. The district includes three counties, Carroll, Columbiana and Stark. Carroll has had a judge for fourteen out of fifteen years since the third post was created. Columbiana has a judge, and Stark one also. It is hoped that the next judge to be elected will be a Stark county man—not because of any narrow considerations, but because the business to be transacted can best be attended to by a resident of Stark county. Carroll county had 17,000 population in 1900, while Stark had 84,000. Carroll had but thirty-four cases on its docket in August, and has not over three weeks of active trial business in a year. These facts contain within themselves solid reasons for choosing the next judge from our own county.

BRITISH SUZERAINTY.

At first the British demands, though obviously trumped up and without a sound basis either in morals or in law, did not directly involve the question of the independence of the Transvaal. The situation was merely that of the strongest empire in the world bringing a domineering pressure to bear upon a tiny republic to influence a change of domestic policies. But Mr. Chamberlain had managed by the beginning of September to get the dispute shifted around to the acknowledgement on the part of the Transvaal of British "suzerainty." If the Transvaal should now decide to concede the British demands respecting the franchise and other points of internal policy, such concessions would be taken as conclusive precedents. In such case the claim of British suzerainty would rapidly advance to the point where, for all practical purposes, the Transvaal would be regarded as annexed to the British empire.

The independence of the Transvaal republic was recognized first by Great Britain in 1852. The Boers who went to the wilderness beyond the river Vaal to form that self-governing community, had left Natal a few years previous when the British had taken and annexed Natal. These same Boers had left Cape Colony for Natal to get away from British rule between the years 1833 and 1837. In 1876 the British assisted the Boers of the Transvaal in a contest with the natives, and this was followed in the spring of 1877 by the annexation of the Transvaal to the British empire. But the arrangement was not satisfactory to the Boers, who took up arms against it in December, 1880, and fought so vigorously that after the defeat of the British at Majuba Hill, a peace treaty was signed in March, 1881, which made the Transvaal an independent country again, as concerned its internal affairs, but made Great Britain its representative in external matters.

In 1884 another treaty was signed with England, under which the dependence of the South African republic upon Great Britain was much diminished, and became limited to a certain right on the part of the British government to be consulted in the foreign dealings and relations of the Transvaal. The questions now in dispute have nothing to do with such foreign relations, and Mr. Chamberlain has no more right, under the treaty and under international law, to concern himself with the elective franchise in the Transvaal than President Kruger has to discuss the question of woman suffrage in England.—From "The Progress of the World," in the American Monthly Review of Reviews for October.

LINCOLN AND DOUGLASS.

The President's Address at Galesburg, Ill.

GALESBURG, Ill., Oct. 7.—[By Associated Press]—On the campus of Knox College, where Abraham Lincoln and Stephen A. Douglass, forty-one years ago, met in historic debate in their canvass of the state in the senatorial contest, President McKinley and Postmaster General Smith today delivered addresses in commemoration of the struggle between those two great leaders. The President said: "Lincoln and Douglass are inseparably connected in the public mind. One asserted the right of slavery to enter the territories; the other disputed that right, but both agreed that the slave power should not divide the Union. Douglass carried the legislature, but Lincoln won the people. Three years later, when the war of the rebellion came, Lincoln and Douglass were no longer divided. Douglass without hesitation aligned himself upon the side of the national government, and his patriotic course was a mighty factor in moulding Union sentiment and in uniting the patriotism of the country." At the conclusion of the exercises the presidential party started for Chicago.

SPEAK OUT.

The Search-Light of Publicity is Pleading Massillon People.

Publicity is what the people want. Let the public speak on the subject. There has been too much claim, too little proof. Claims made by strangers are not proof. Claims endorsed by strangers are not proof. There is only one kind of proof for a Massillon citizen. The experience of people we know. When friends and neighbors endorse. Make public statement of their case. There can be no question about such evidence. This is the proof we have. Which backs every box of Doan's Kidney Pills. No other kidney pills, no other kidney remedy.

Can produce such proof. Here is one case of the many we have: Mrs. James Kerstetter, 83 North St., wife of Salesman Kerstetter of Graze &amp; Sonnhalter, the grocers, says: "I suffered with kidney trouble for two years. It would not have been so bad had I been able to rest comfortably at night, but I could not lie on my back at all. My husband got Doan's Kidney Pills for me at Baitz's drug store on Erie St., requesting me to try them as I had used so much medicine and never received any benefit from it. The first box made quite an improvement. I followed it up with two more and I grew better gradually but sure. Doan's Kidney Pills did me more good than anything I took. I can honestly recommend a trial of them to any one. They can do no harm and I am sure they will do good for I have reasons for thinking so."

GRAND NEW FEATURES.

Attractions Added to the Pittsburgh Exposition—Godfrey's Successful Engagement—Damrosch Arrived.

With the coming of Walter Damrosch and his New York Symphony orchestra the Pittsburgh Exposition enters upon the fourth week of its eleventh annual season. Thus far the big industrial institution has been an unqualified success and the indications are that the season will prove to be the most remarkable in many respects since the big autumnal show was established. Thousands of people from the country districts in Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia and from all large towns and cities within a day's travel of Pittsburgh have already visited the big show and join with the people of Pittsburgh and Allegheny in praise of the excellence of the features presented this year. The music has been particularly pleasing as the attractions this year are the very best that could be found on either continent. They are really international in character when one considers the fact that Lieutenant Dan Godfrey and his great band from the British army came to America expressly to play at the Pittsburgh Exposition.

Godfrey has just closed an engagement that has been remarkable in many respects. He was at the Exposition for ten days, and they were ten days of triumph. He never saw a foreign organization so royally received. Last Saturday night, at the close of his engagement, Godfrey was honored with a reception at the hands of the leading members of the Order of the Sons of St. George, an English organization that has a great following in Pennsylvania and Ohio. Several thousand members of the order, with their families, spent the entire day at the Exposition, and in the evening the reception committee, on behalf of the order, presented Conductor Godfrey with a magnificent gold medal as a token of the great esteem in which he is held by them. Walter Damrosch and his artists came to the Exposition for a second time to repeat the triumph of last year, when they drew the largest crowds that had ever visited the Exposition in one day. Conductor Damrosch is one of the foremost orchestral conductors in America and is really the acknowledged exponent of German opera on this continent, having personally conducted several seasons of German opera with some of the finest artists in the world.

There will be numerous excursions during the Damrosch engagement and no one who loves the classics and likes to hear them played by acknowledged artists can afford to miss hearing Damrosch and his orchestra. The Exposition management has taken special care that the best of the orchestra platform so that no one can walk back and forth through the portion of the building. A passage way is afforded in the rear, under the balcony where the noise would not disturb the thousands of other auditors. The famous carriage, or phaeton, in which the martyred president, Abraham Lincoln, took his last drive in the park of Washington, is now on exhibition in mechanical hall. The machines for making facturing liquid air are now about ready to be placed in operation and these exhibitions of the art of the wonderful power of electricity to create quite a sensation. There will be practical demonstrations of the various uses to which the liquid air may be applied, showing its marvelous power and the simplicity of its operation.

In the amusement line there are various features of the Exposition worthy of note. Located in the art gallery is the great group of the wonderful moving pictures. Many of these pictures are of a humorous nature, made up by freaks of the camera. It is rather astonishing to see a man fall to pieces bit by bit, and then have those pieces thrown together again as if by magic, and then to have the man get up and walk about as easily and gracefully as though no such calamity had befallen him. Yet such feats are accomplished by the cinematograph and they are creating a decided sensation. No one should miss seeing the famous picture, "The Man in the Moon." In the gallery annex is the celebrated $25,000 painting, "Custer's Last Rally."

Among the outside features are the merry-go-round, the gravity railway, "Pierce the magician, and the marvelous show known as the "Cabaret de la Mort," which has aroused much wonderment. The term means "Cavern of the Dead" and it is literally so, for spirits appear and disappear and a human form is as quickly transformed into a skeleton. Many a thrilling thing has been practiced and the structure altogether one of the best of the kind ever seen in Pittsburgh.

THE STRAINERS

The KIDNEYS are the great "strainers" of the blood. It is their duty to excrete all the poisons from the system. If they fail to do this, good health is impossible.

Are you certain that disordered kidneys are not the real cause of your ill health, whatever the apparent cause may be?

The symptoms of kidney trouble are so numerous and so different, that oftentimes the best of physicians are deceived and make the mistake of treating the various symptoms, without affecting in the least the real root of the trouble. The stomach, liver and heart are often treated locally to repress disturbances which arise from disordered kidneys. An error of this kind may cost you your life.

Even with the stomach or other organs diseased, health may be retained if the kidneys will do their full duty in excreting the poisons in the blood.

Neglect of the overtaxed or complaining kidneys will produce acute or chronic Bright's disease, diabetes, nephritis, gravel, uraemia, dropsy, rheumatism and many other dreaded diseases. Most female complaints are the direct result of disorder in the kidneys. Thousands of persons are suffering from diseases due to kidney trouble who do not realize the cause or the danger of their ailments.

Foley's Kidney Cure is guaranteed to bring health to the kidneys. (And it is, so far as we know, the only unconditionally guaranteed remedy for kidney diseases.)

It is a scientific, vegetable medicine, without any harmful properties and while acting directly on the kidneys, it is designed to strengthen the stomach, improve all organic action, cleanse the blood and speedily build up the whole system.

SYMPTOMS: Backache, bad digestion, dry mouth, parched or swollen tongue, bad breath, headache, nervousness, voracious appetite, weakness, tired-out feeling, paleness or waxiness of complexion, wasting of flesh, dropsical tendency, aching pain over the hips or lumbar, swollen ankles, sediment or deposit in the urine, bloody or milky white or highly colored urine, frequent desire to pass urine, scanty urine, bad odor of perspiration, puffiness under the eyes, etc. One case does not produce all of these signs of disease. Any one symptom will indicate kidney or bladder disorder of some kind.

Foley's Kidney Cure is Guaranteed to remove the cause and the symptoms will disappear.

Mr. C. A. Stillson, a merchant of Tampico, Ill., writes: "Your Kidney Cure has cured some cases here that physicians pronounced incurable. I, myself, am able to testify to its merits. My face is today a living picture of health, and your Kidney Cure has made it such. I had suffered twenty-seven years with the disease, and today I feel ten years younger than I did one year ago."

President Honored Lincoln's and Douglass' Memory.

ANNIVERSARY AT GALESBURG, ILLS.

Chicago to Be Reached This Afternoon, According to the Schedule - Pleasant Exchange of Greetings Between the President and Colonel Bryan.

GALESBURG, Ills., Oct. 7.—President McKinley spoke this morning at the exercises incident to the anniversary of one of the Lincoln and Douglass debates.

The exercises which took place at Knox college were designated to commemorate the forty-first anniversary of the famous debates, one of which was held at Galesburg. The president participated upon invitation of Dr. John M. Finley, former president of Knox college. Finley joined the party at Washington, but will quit the party here. The oration of the day was delivered by Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith.

Chicago is to be reached this afternoon, provided the schedule is carried out.

PEORIA, Ills., Oct. 7.—Colonel William Jennings Bryan sat directly behind President McKinley at Canton, Ills., while the president delivered a brief address to the citizens of that town. A street fair is in progress at Canton and Colonel Bryan had been secured to deliver a two-hour speech. The Nebraska was among the first to greet President McKinley as he left the train and ascended the platform. When the president concluded his address he turned and heartily grasped Colonel Bryan's outstretched hand.

"Goodby, Mr. President," said Colonel Bryan, and the president responded with a word of farewell. This closed the short meeting between the former rivals of 1896, as the presidential train left immediately. Colonel Bryan delivered his address after the departure of the president.

President McKinley said at Canton: Our glorious old flag, the symbol of liberty, floats today over two hemispheres. During the recent war we had exhibitions of unprecedented patriotism on the part of the people and unmatchable heroism on the part of our soldiers and sailors. [Applause.] Our second great triumph is the triumph of prosperity. The busy mills, the active industries, the general prosperity, have scattered plenty over a smiling country. Our third great triumph is the triumph we have had over sectionalism. We are no longer a divided people and he who would stir up animosities between the north and south is denied a hearing in both sections. The boys of the south and the boys of the north fought triumphantly on land and sea in every engagement during our war.

North and south together brought, now own the same electric thought, in peace a common day salute. And with free and cheerful rivalry harvest the fields whereon they fought. So I conclude by saying that this nation has been greatly blessed and at this hour we are a united and prosperous and patriotic people. And may that Divine Providence who has guided all our undertakings from the inception of the government continue his gracious and assuring favor to us forevermore. [Applause.]

Speeches were also made at Bushnell and Macomb, on the way from Quincy to Peoria, the president being escorted from the train to improvised platforms. The great event of the day in Peoria was the unveiling of a beautiful monument erected by Peoria's citizens as a memorial to the soldiers of the rebellion, living and dead.

The president and the members of his party took seats to review a long procession of militia, veterans of the war and returned volunteers of the Spanish war. The president then took a seat facing the monument. After some selections of music and an invocation by the Rev. Dr. John Weston the monument was unveiled by Mrs. S. A. Kinsey. President McKinley, accompanied by the cabinet officers, made a tour of the open space surrounding the monument, inspecting its beauties carefully on all sides. Walking with the president were Mr. Kingman and Mr. Triebel, the former chairman of the exercises and the latter the sculptor of the figures at the base of the monument. The formal exercises of dedication were then proceeded with, during which the president made a speech.

QUINCY, Ills., Oct. 7.—While at the Soldiers' home, near here, the president paid a visit to the Soldiers' hospital.

The presidential party was next driven from the Soldiers' home to the city proper, a distance of two miles. Company F, Fifth Illinois infantry, the naval reserves and Company F, Eighth Illinois infantry, escorted the party through the business district. The sailors were supplied with Hotchkiss guns and as soon as the president arrived in sight of the public square a presidential salute of 21 guns was fired. Six thousand school children from all the schools of the city, public and parochial, were massed on the east side of the courthouse waving flags and singing national airs as the president appeared.

The streets were packed with people. A street fair is in projection, and all along the line of march booths and arches had been erected, most of which flaunted the Stars and Stripes and immense pictures of McKinley and Dewey. The procession went by a circuitous route, through the principal business streets of the city until the public square was reached. There the president and members of the cabinet ascended a platform to review the long files of veterans from the Soldiers' home. Meanwhile a reception was held in honor of Mrs. McKinley in the parlors of the hotel.

Some of the surging mob shook hands with him. The president was next driven to the corn palace, a building wholly constructed of corn, after which the corn festival was inaugurated by the president.

An informal reception and dinner at the residence of J. B. Greenhut was the closing event of the president's visit to Peoria.

PAN-PRESBYTERIANS CLOSE.

Council Adjourned in Washington—Election of Caven as President Ratified—Farewell Addresses.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—At the session of the Pan-Presbyterian alliance Rev. Principal Caven, D. D., of Toronto, Canada, was chosen formally as president of the alliance, succeeding Rev. Dr. Lang of Glasgow, Scotland. The recommendation of the business committee continuing in office the other officers and the executive committee was adopted.

Formal resolutions were adopted urging that the Bible be used in all periods of instruction in schools of learning; that the alliance views with alarm the great number of divorces granted by the courts on unscriptural grounds and asserting that the marriage relation should not be dissolved except on grounds laid down in the Scriptures; and that the church array its forces the more strongly in opposition to the liquor traffic.

Rev. Dr. Roberts of Richmond presented a paper on the "History of the Western Section of the Alliance," and the Rev. Dr. Chamberlain addressed the council on the "Missionary Work in Brazil." The closing address of the day was delivered by the Rev. Dr. Duffield of New York city on "Christian Progress During the Nineteenth Century." It was a brilliant and eloquent address, a fitting conclusion of the formal session of the alliance.

The Pan-Presbyterian Alliance council closed last night. General resolutions, including one condemning the sale of liquor, were adopted. Rev. Dr. Lang, the retiring president, made a short address, as did Judge Watson of the Free church of Scotland, Rev. Dr. Scrimgeour of Montreal, Sample of New York, Young of London, Bammerman of Perth, Scotland, and Radcliffe of Washington. The council adjourned to meet at Liverpool in 1904.

THE C. P. SYNOD MET.

Some of the Delegates Were Absent at the Pan-Presbyterian Alliance Council in Washington.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 7.—The Cumberland Presbyterian synod convened in the Shady Avenue church with about 50 delegates in attendance. This is the sixty-second annual meeting of the synod, and it was opened with devotional exercises by Rev. S. K. Holtz of Easton, in the absence of Rev. H. G. Teagarden, moderator of the synod, who has been attending the Presbyterian Alliance meeting at Washington. The opening sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. W. H. Black, president of the Missouri Valley college, at Marshall, Mo. He took for his theme the vision of St. John regarding the new city of Jerusalem.

Dr. Black held that St. John saw a forecast of an earthly city, and of heaven, as generally supposed. He then referred to the frequent mention in the Scriptures of an ideal earthly city, purged of all sin and filled with righteousness.

The synod took a recess and then the session took up routine business. The evening session was addressed by Rev. Dr. J. M. Hubbert, dean of the Cumberland Theological seminary at Lebanon, Tenn. Owing to attendance of many synod delegates at the alliance meeting in Washington, but few of the assignments for the session could be carried out.

GRANT'S GOOD FIGHT.

Drove Rebels From West Bank of Imus River.

TEN DEAD THE ENEMY'S LOSS.

Three Americans Were Wounded. Twenty Filipinos Driven From Trenches and Six Killed—All but 19 Out of 330 Mules Dead as Result of Typhoons.

MANILA, Oct. 7.—General Fred Grant with three companies of the Fourth infantry, two companies of the Fourteenth infantry and a band of scouts attached to the former regiment, advanced from Imus, driving the insurgents from the entire west bank of the Imus river.

Three Americans were wounded. It is estimated that ten of the Filipinos were killed.

Companies C and H, with the scouts, crossed the river at Big Bend and advanced westward in the direction of the GENERAL FRED GRANT.

Bincayan road, the insurgents firing volleys but retiring. Twenty Filipinos were discovered in trenches at the Bincayan church, about midway between Bacoar and Cavite Viejo. They were routed, six being killed.

Riley's battery of the Fifth artillery made an effective sortie about a mile south of Bacoar and shelled the west bank of the river at close range. That bank was then held by the Americans.

The United States transport Siam, which left San Francisco Aug. 19 with upward of 380 valuable mules, the coming of which had been anxiously awaited, as mules are in great demand for continuing the campaign, arrived and reported all but 19 of the animals had been lost in two severe typhoons.

The mules were hurled from side to side and frightfully mangled. Their legs and necks were broken, and the wretched animals fell in such a confused mass that the attendants were unable to relieve them. Meantime the deckload was washed off, the ship lightened and the rolling increased. When the storm abated the injured animals were killed and their carcasses thrown overboard.

LAVIGNE KNOCKED OUT.

McFadden Put Him Out in the Nineteenth Round - Winner Almost Out in Eleventh Round.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—George McFadden of this city knocked out George (Kid) Lavigne, ex-lightweight champion of the world, in the nineteenth round, before the new Broadway Athletic club. They met at 133 pounds and put up a fight which was as sensational as it was prolific of hard hitting and clever ring work. McFadden's blocking of the kid's rushes and leads was phenomenal, and toward the end of the bout he had the Saginaw boxer very raw and sore. At the opening Lavigne was the favorite, but after the twelfth round odds of 100 to 80 were freely offered on McFadden.

Lavigne was well battered, and several minutes elapsed before he realized what had happened to him. McFadden left the ring virtually without a mark. McFadden knocked him down time and again. In the eleventh Lavigne almost put McFadden out with a punch in the stomach.

Toward the close of the eighteenth Lavigne fell from a left jab and push with both hands. He got up, in ten seconds only to go to his knees from a right uppercut as the bell rang, and he went to his corner groggy.

Nineteenth round—McFadden had Lavigne reeling with right and left swings on the head. A right swing on the jaw put Lavigne to the floor, where he lay for six seconds. He got up reeling and tried to clinch, but was sent down twice more with similar blows. The kid clinched as he got up and the referee separated them. Then Mac nailed Lavigne with a left back of the ear, and the kid went down for another nine seconds' rest. A left to the body floored Lavigne for the fifth time. He got up only to go down again, this time from a punch, with McFadden on top.

McFadden jumped up, but Lavigne rose slowly. He staggered across the ring with McFadden hot after him. Lavigne rushed to clinch. When the referee broke them Mac swung his right to the head and uppercut his left to the chin. Lavigne went down again, but got up within the limit. He stood in a dazed condition. Mac measured him carefully, and with a left swing this time sent him down and out.

CUP RACE SCHEDULED TODAY

The Belief Strengthened That the Shamrock Is a Dangerous Rival.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The Shamrock and Columbia are to try again today for the America's cup, provided the weather is suitable.

The feeling on both sides is one of confidence. Mr. Iselin thinks he will win. Sir Thomas Lipton has a nice little corner in the Erin all ready for the cup. The public is in doubt, and it must be said that there is a feeling of indecision among the yachtsmen. The two days of drifting have furnished almost nothing on which to base opinion. They have, however, seemed to strengthen the belief that the Shamrock is a thoroughly dangerous proposition.

CRANE NAMED FOR GOVERNOR.

Massachusetts Republican State Convention Held in Boston.

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—The following ticket was nominated by the Republican state convention:

For governor, W. Murry Crane; lieutenant governor, John J. Bates; secretary of state, William M. Olin; attorney general, Hosea M. Knowlton.

The platform opposes trusts and monopolies; believes a law enacted by all the states in connection with the federal trust law would put an end to the danger from the growth of great combinations and trusts; expressed confidence in the patriotic ideals of President McKinley and the high qualities of statesmanship with which he has impressed them upon his administration; favors the cause of civil service reform; urges a further restriction of immigration and condemns lynching.

In regard to the Philippines the platform says:

Under the treaty with Spain, the law of nations put upon the United States the responsibility for peace and security of life and property, the well-being and the future government of the Philippines. Accepting this responsibility, it is our profound trust that the present hostilities can be brought to an early termination, and that congress, guided by a wise and patriotic administration, will establish and maintain in these islands, with the home of tyranny, a government as free as liberal and as progressive as our own, in accordance with the sacred principles of liberty and self government upon which the American government so securely rests.

Naval Estimates For Next Year.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Acting Secretary Allen prepared the full statement of estimates which will be submitted to congress for the maintenance of the naval establishment for the next fiscal year. These amount to $3,945,183, which is an increase over the appropriations for the current year of $24,537,187. Included in the increase for the next year are appropriations of $12,268,474 for public works and navy yards and stations. There is also an estimate of $2,021,000 for the new naval academy.

No Alaskan Agreement Yet.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—There has been no progress towards a final agreement upon a modus vivendi, fixing the Alaskan boundary, even temporarily, since the tentative scheme framed by Secretary Hay and Mr. Tower, the British charge, was sent to London for ratification there. So far as is known here the London authorities are still waiting upon the Canadians in this matter.

Nashville Starts For Mantia.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—A cablegram received from San Domingo announced that the gunboat Nashville had sailed for San Juan, Porto Rico, where she will stop and replenish her coal supply. The Nashville should make the trip to Manila by way of Suez in about seven weeks, or perhaps two months.

Offer to Take Team to Cleveland.

TOLEDO, Oct. 7.—Charles J. Strobel, manager of the Toledo Interstate ball team, has received an offer from the new American association to take his team to Cleveland next season. He will urge the association to put the franchise in Toledo.

The greatest danger to life in the city is not the car with its clanging gong, but those silent invisible foes, the germs of disease. The prevalence of consumption in cities is stated to be largely due to the frequent expectoration of diseased persons, whose dried sputa mixed with the dust and blown into the air, is inhaled by some luckless man or woman. Sanitation may minimize these perils but can never obliterate them. The essential thing is to educate every person to the knowledge that the germ can find no permanent lodgment in a healthy body. Keep the blood pure, the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition in sound health and you are practically germ proof.

This disease resisting condition is obtained by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It purifies the blood, strengthens the stomach, nourishes the nerves, and heals the lungs. Even when there is obstinate cough, bronchitis, spitting of blood and other conditions, which, if neglected, lead to consumption, the faithful use of Golden Medical Discovery will, in almost every instance, effect a cure.

"I was taken sick in July last year, and was not able to do any kind of work until November," writes Mr. Noel W. Orwin, of Langley, Aiken Co., S. C. "I had been coughing up small hard lumps of phlegm for about a year before I was taken down. I called on a doctor, who said that one-half of my left lung was gone, and advised me to leave my home and go to the country. I wrote to you for advice. I took four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which I sincerely believe has done me more good than all the other medicines I have ever taken."

"It did me more good than anything I ever used. My dyspepsia was of months' standing; after eating it was terrible. Now I am well." S. B. Keener, Holsington, Kas. of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat. Rider & Snyder, Chas. W. Cupples, 139 West Tremont street.

Everybody's liable to itching piles. Rich and poor, old and young—terrible the torture they suffer. Only one sure cure. Doan's Ointment. Absolutely safe.

President King, Farmers' bank, Brooklyn, Mich., has used DeWitt's Little Early Risers in his family for years. Says they are the best. These famous little pills cure constipation, biliousness and all liver and bowel troubles. Rider & Snyder, and C. W. Cupples, 139 West Tremont street.

A Short, sad Story.

A cold. Neglect. Pneumonia. Grief.

Had Foley's Honey and Tar been used this story would have had a happier ending. 25c and 50c. Rider & Snyder.

"If you scour the world you will never find a remedy equal to One Minute Cough Cure," says Editor Fackler, of the Micanopy, Fla., "Hustler." It cured his family of LaGrippe and saves thousands from pneumonia, bronchitis, croup and all throat and lung troubles. Rider & Snyder and C. W. Cupples, 139 W. Tremont St.

"Isn't safe to be a day without Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil in the house. Never can tell at what moment an accident may happen."

Hal Reid's latest success. "A Child of the South," will be at the Armory on Thursday, Oct. 12. Seats will be placed on sale at Bahney's, next Tuesday morning.

THE BICYCLE RACE.

Roads and weather were all that cyclists could desire Friday afternoon, and both contributed toward making the second road race of the season in Massillon, a success. Everyone of the sixteen wheelmen entered was at the tape and made the start at the appointed hour, all but two finishing. A few of the riders finished in bunches that created considerable excitement, but most of them secured their positions by good margins. Doll and Snyder, who started together, finished but twenty seconds apart. Owing to the numerous turns in the road, spills were frequent, and in some cases had some little bearing on the result. Doll and Snyder were the only ones who remained on their saddles throughout the race.

The starting and finishing tape was stretched in South Mill street, opposite Schuckers' drug store. Benches had been arranged along the side of the city park for the accommodation of spectators, but these were forgotten in the excitement, and everybody thronged into the street, where however, the police kept a sufficient portion of the road clear to enable the riders to make a strong finish. Riders crossed the tape in the following order at the end of the first lap: Snyder, Doll, Grossweiler, Houriet, Coleman, Boyd, Shanklin, Burkhart, Hamel, Goehler, Mong, Shafer, Eckhard and Eyster. The latter it will be noticed passed nine men on the final lap. The winners of positions, their handicaps, time, and the prizes they received are as follows:

First—Kent Doll, handicap of 3 minutes, time, 51:30. Prize, bicycle, value, $40.

Second—Clarence Snyder, 3 minutes, time, 51:51. Pans pants, dozen handkerchiefs and bottle of perfume, value, $10.

Third—Charles Shanklin, 2 minutes, time, 53:47. Sweater, stockings, belt and shoes, value, $9.

George Mong, time 50:05, made second best time.

First course prize—Clarence Snyder, time, 54:12. Case of Schuster beer.

Prize for last finisher—Gustavus Eckhard. Piece of imported statuary.

Other riders, in order of finish, with their time, are as follows: Earl Coleman, time, 59:43; Clarence Burkhart, time, 54:50; Harry Shafer, time, 57:45; Gustavus Eckhard, time, 65:37.

Harry Rider, Walker Snyder and Harry Witthem were judges, Per Lee Howard and A. H. Coleman timekeepers, and Charles Atwater starter. C. W. Brieder had no official connection with the race, but it is doubtful whether, without his assistance, the race would have been the success it was.

DEWEY'S KIND OF A HOUSE.

Told the Committee to Buy a Modest Place and Leave Enough of the Fund to Furnish It.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Admiral Dewey conferred with the committee chosen by President McKinley several months ago as custodian of the popular subscription to provide the admiral with a suitable residence, and assured them of his cordial acceptance of the honor. He said he was not only glad to receive such a gift, coming as it did from so many contributors, but he desired it right away, and trusted there would be no thought of building a special house, but that the money be utilized to secure a modest, comfortable home, completely furnished.

He was informed that the fund had already reached $50,000 and was still growing. It came from more than 43,000 subscribers. The admiral said he regarded it as scarcely less of an honor than the sword voted by congress, because it evidently represented the good will of the people of the country. He will of the people of the country. He hoped all the money would not be spent on the building, but that enough would be reserved to completely furnish it and that it might be given to him as soon as possible ready for occupancy. He exhibited remarkable familiarity with all available houses in Washington, where he declared his permanent home must be located and made these stipulations: It must have a southern exposure, its dining room should have a seating capacity of about 18 persons and it should have at least three bed rooms and a library.

He said he was going to Vermont today to return within ten days, and the committee assured him that they would look over the field and present him with data from which he could make a final selection at that time from among houses offered.

Degree For Dewey.

BURLINGTON, Vt., Oct. 7.—The trustees of the University of Vermont voted to confer the degree of doctor of laws on Admiral Dewey.

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—The Spanish minister, Duke of the Arcos, has left his home at Manchester, and in regard to the reception being given to Admiral Dewey: "It does not surprise me in the least. Admiral Dewey is a brave and noble, and for the extraordinary service he has rendered his country no honor that can be shown him in return is too great. He has aroused the admiration of the whole world by the gallantry of his conduct, and he would be a small man, indeed, who would not recognize his merit and give free expression to his admiration for Dewey's valor."

Is there Acid in Your Blood?

That rheumatism in its worst form can be cured by proper treatment is shown by this interview with Mat Tanner, of 231 Hamilton St., Albany, N. Y. He said: "I was taken with rheumatism that began in my hips and spread throughout my body. For two years and a half I was confined to my bed. I employed nine of the best physicians of Albany, and two specialists from New York, but all declared my case hopeless. My niece recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. The use of several boxes enabled me to leave my bed and go about with crutches. Finally I abandoned the crutches, and am now as well as ever. No praise of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People is too strong for my case."

MAT TANNER.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 17th day of Sept., 1898.

NEILE F. TOWNER, Notary Public.

—From the Albany (N. Y.) Journal
